

INTRODUCTION FOR JAN SPENCE

Our speaker today is a true pioneer.

This Georgia native and her family introduced peach Jell-O to the world through a national commercial in the 1970's.

She began her sales career at age 10 selling donuts for summer camp.

After selling vacuum cleaners, she then went on to consult with national accounts such as Wal-Mart, Pillsbury and Frito-Lay.

Jan fulfilled one of her lifelong dreams by playing women's professional full-tackle football with the Jacksonville Dixie Blues. In their inaugural year, the team went to the first ever Women's World Bowl in San Diego, California.

Through speaking, training and coaching, this TEDx speaker inspires individuals to dare to be different so that together we can transform the world.

So, put your hands together and let's welcome, #52, Jan Spence!

(start music)